FURTHER DETAILS

Insurance

Kogarah Bay Sailing Club's insurance does not insure you for any event while racing. You are covered by the Australian Sailing's personal injury policy while your membership is current, and your name is registered on the Australia Sailing's database.

We register your name when you pay your membership.

You must also insure your own boat as our public liability policy does not cover members while racing. When seeking insurance for your boat, you should advise your insurer that it will be used for racing.

All those taking part in a club race do so at their own risk and the club is not responsible for the seaworthiness of a yacht.

All boats competing in a race shall have third party liability insurance cover of not less than $10,000,000.

Membership

Membership with Kogarah Bay Sailing Club includes registration with Australian Sailing. Aside from personal injury cover, your membership offers several benefits. Please refer the Australian Sailing's web site for details.

Boat Storage

Boat storage is at the owner's responsibility & liability. Kogarah Bay Sailing Club accept no responsibility for any loss or damage to stored boats or equipment held or stored on its' premises or surrounding lands and waterways.
